

Pietruszkolinek

New version of Italian fairytale

Prezzemolina

re-written by class 3a Poland

PINK OR BLUE, WE ARE HEROES

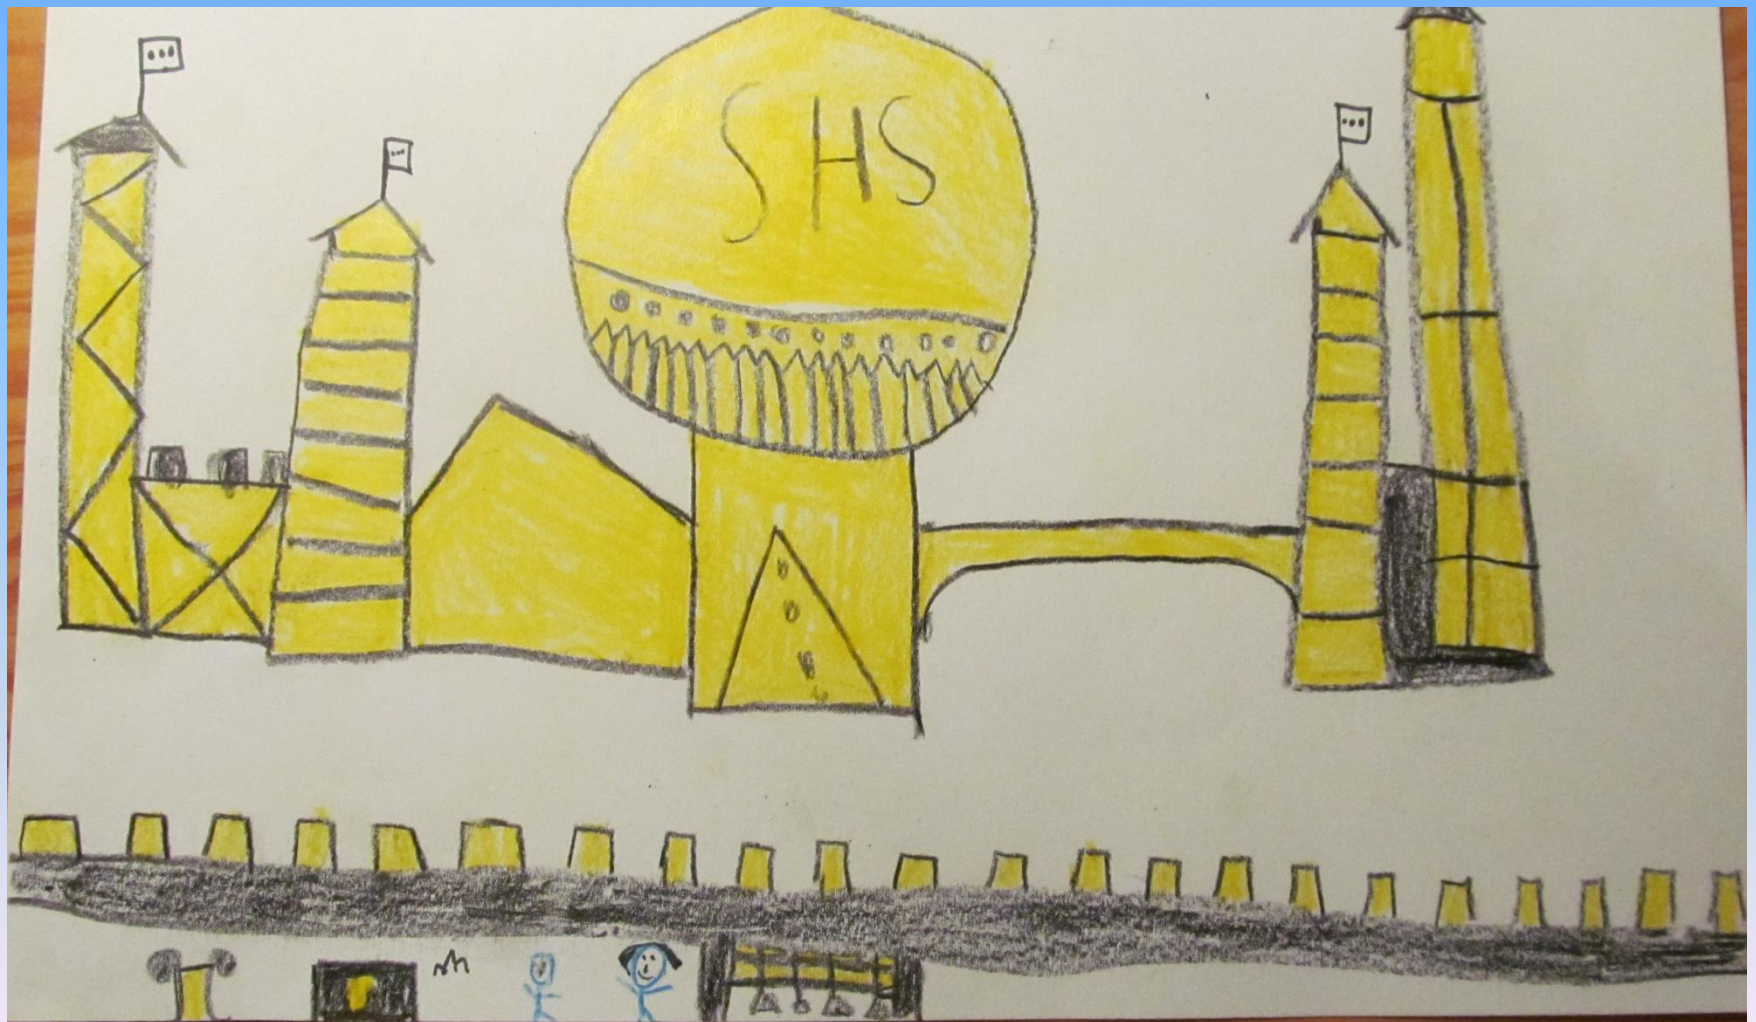

There is a man who comes to the garden of bad wizzards to get some parsley. One day he finds there a very little baby boy and takes him home. He calls him Pietruszkolinek - Parsley Boy. The bad wizzards get very angry and kidnap the baby. The man is miserable and cries.

The bad wizzards make Pietruszkolinek clean, work very hard under the ground and look for the treasure. Luckily, the wizzards' cousin Mimi helps him. Mimi is a very nice, kind and helpful girl.

The bad wizzards tell the boy to go to the most powerful wizzard Morgan's castle to take the magic box.

To help Pietruszkolinek, Mimi gives him objects :
some soap to clean the door
milk for thirsty cats
the little broom for a baker to clean the oven
the sewing machine for a dressmaker

The happy and grateful door, cats, baker and dressmaker help brave Pietruszkolinek to escape from the castle with the magic box. Pietruszkolinek is very satisfied so he opens the magic box. Suddenly, the little ballerinas jump out of the box but Mimi helps to put them back.

The bad wizzards get extremely angry because Pietruszkolinek can do everything they tell him to do. To punish the boy, they give him to the scary dragon. The dragon wants to eat Pietruszkolinek but Mimi uses magic and rescues him. She puts the dragon into the cage.

The bad wizzards run very, very far away.
Mimi and Pietruszkolinek get married and live happily forever.

THE END

